

Navigating Loneliness

*Write your thoughts, pause, or talk to a trusted adult whenever you feel ready.
Feeling disconnected or misunderstood, even around others*

WHAT IT FEELS LIKE

Feeling disconnected or like nobody truly understands you, even when people are around. Loneliness is not a personal failure; it is a human signal that you crave meaningful belonging.

GROUNDING RESET

'One Small Connection' Reflection

Think of one person, place, or community where you feel even slightly safe or understood. What is one small step that could help you feel 1% more connected today? Even sending a low-pressure text or taking a walk can shift your state.

Take 3 slow breaths. You do not need to rush or figure everything out at once.
